English and Chinese, when we get the detailed project requirements, we first analyse and then present our proposal to client for confirming.

In our proposal, we elaborate our developing plan, how many people will join in this project? Our best quotation? And so on.

When everything is confirmed well, we begin our cooperation according to the contract. We make a WebApp project schedule in order to good control the progress of this project.

From step to step, we submit Web and App prototype, then our UI design, at the same time, we conduct the front-end and back-end development in our side.

For each function module, we also show the DEMO to client from time to time.

The client are very satisfied with our hardworking and good gesture to their project, because of our professional knowledge, hardworking attitude, and excellent work, they will work with us again.
