

About Client:

Cardinal Health Shanghai is committed to providing high-quality pharmacy and healthcare distribution services and innovative solution-building in healthcare marketing and logistics services, supported by advanced facilities, information systems, and a forward-looking management team. More than 800 domestic and multinational customers choose Cardinal Health Shanghai as their healthcare distribution provider. First established in 2005, the company joined Cardinal Health and became Cardinal Health Shanghai in 2010. Their healthcare products include drugs, cosmetics, medical devices, and traditional Chinese medicines.

About the Project:

Cardinal Health (Shanghai) Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd. was looking for a comprehensive translation solution for their website's screenshots and various materials from French to Chinese. Their primary concern was to ensure a culturally resonant and accurate translation that would effectively convey their message to Chinese-speaking audiences. Moreover, they required the translation to be completed within a specified timeframe that would be aligned with the marketing and launch plans.

The Services Including:

French To Chinese Translation

Our Solution:

- From our pool of talented translators, we assigned this task to a native Chinese translator with experience in the pharmaceutical field. There were a total of 8 web pages to be translated.
- Due to the previous trial test, the client had confidence in the CCJK French translation service.
- CCJK carried out strict TEP procedures to maintain the accuracy of the content. This rigorous process guaranteed that the translated materials maintained their integrity, were culturally relevant, and resonated effectively with the target audience.

- We delivered the translations within 2 days, despite the fact that the client initially expected them to be delivered in a week or so. The client was very impressed with CCJK's fast delivery time.
