

About the project:

Our client has a time-coded English DVD video, which is about how to sharpen a knife. The client is in need of a professional and qualified team to help them to record and translate it in Tagalog within a tight deadline tagalog. They provide us with the English video and Tagalog script. The final audio file specifications need to meet the standards as below: Sample Rate needs to be 44khz, Bit Depth 16 bits, Bit Rate 1500-2500 kbps.

Our solution:

We have already backed up a professional Tagalog voice over translator artist before the project coming in. So after getting the confirmation of the project, we downloaded the DVD video file from wetransfer and study the script and video carefully. Unfortunately, when we get contact with our Tagalog voice over artist, we were just informed that he caught a bad cold and cannot help us with it.

As the project deadline is tight, so we have to find a professional and proper voice with abundant voice recording experience for the character, and the artist who is suitable for the descriptive materials. We collect all the resources on hand and post a job on the internet. And then invite the candidate who has a professional voice and is suitable for the voice recording. Luckily, we find the right one in the night, so the next day, he can prepare for the voice recording. As the human voices needed to be synchronized with the video, therefore, after the recording, we edited these audio files according to video. And finally, we deliver the audio file to our client on time and finish the project successfully.
