Legal translation is the translation of texts within the field of law. As law is a culture-dependent subject field, legal translation is not a simple task. Legal translation requires very specialist knowledge; the wording for this type of document is very exact and can have no ambiguity.

When translating this kind of materials, the translator should keep the following in mind: The legal system of source text is structured in a way that suits that culture and this is reflected in the legal language; similarly, the target text is to be read by someone who is familiar with the other legal system and its language.
